Reviewer General Comments and Suggestions (mandatory written feedback):
The proposed topic and the research work is very interesting, rich of suggestions, and pertinent to the conference topic. I suggest the author to make the link to the conference topics stronger and critically discuss how the proposed approach to representation and design will affect the "relationships between virtual and actual in the process and product of design execution". Please, provide a robust literature review of similar research activities and teaching experiences.

Reviewer General Comments and Suggestions (mandatory written feedback):
- There are several studies dealing with mobile technologies in urban design. What makes this study unique? Please highlight.
- Address the virtual-physical connections of the conference theme
- Paper has strong methods and data-based research
- Some illustrations might be helpful
